The Office of Public Health Practice and ITG Releases first POPulation Health Plug-In broadcast.

POPulation Health Plug-In is a broadcast highlighting current public health topics and issues in our community that affect population health. Produced by the UAB School of Public Health, this show allows viewers to learn more about these topics and issues from experts in the field. The broadcast also raises awareness of the work community-based organizations do to improve population health and healthcare in our community and how the UAB School of Public Health partners with these organizations.

Learn more about the work of the West Central Alabama AHEC and the internship experience of one of our MPH students, Hannah Craft.

Produced by the Office of Public Health Practice and Instructional Technology Group (ITG) at the UAB School of Public Health.

Cone Health Administrative Fellowship

New this Week in the School of Public Health

Due Today! The 2018 APHA Public Health Fellowship in Government
Candidates must have strong public health credentials and be able to spend one year in Washington, D.C. The fellow will have the option of working in the House or Senate on legislative and policy issues such as creating healthy communities, improving health equity, addressing environmental health concerns, population health or the social determinants of health. Training for the fellowship will begin in January 2018 so you must be able to move to the Washington, D.C., area. The fellowship provides a unique learning experience and demonstrates the value and need for basing policy on sound science. The application, including a CV and three letters of recommendation, is due to APHA by August 14, 2017. Click here for more information.

Remember: Save those hotel-sized toiletries this summer!
Traveling this Summer? Not sure what to do with those unused travel-sized toiletries? Donate them to the MCH SAGE Pathways Toiletries Drive! Pathways serves homeless women and children, but anyone can come in and take a shower. Pathways provides unused travel-sized toiletries that they can take with them when they leave. Needed items include: shampoo, conditioner, soap, toothpaste/toothbrush, lotion, face/body wash.

Look for the donation box in the Ryals Public Health Building Lobby. Collection times: Tuesday Sept. 5-Friday Sept. 8.

Volunteer Opportunity with the Center for Policing Equity and the Birmingham Police Department
The Center for Policing Equity (CPE) is looking for dedicated volunteers to help empower local communities and increase public safety in partnership with the Birmingham Police Department. As part of the National Initiative for Building Community Trust and Justice, CPE has developed a training that educates police on the role of implicit bias in decision-making within the criminal justice system and beyond.

CPE will lead a Train the Trainer session on September 9 for selected volunteers. This will serve as an orientation to the materials as well as an additional screening process. Following that, the Birmingham Police Department Trainers will manage the team of volunteers in accordance with their departmental volunteer policy.

Applications should be submitted to nationalinitiative@policingequity.org by August 18, 2017. Applicants will be notified the following week at which time, we will provide more details regarding next steps for the training.
